MEDITATIONS OF AN OLD FISHERMAN.

You waves, though you dance by my feet like children at play.

Though you glow, and you glaze, and you purr, and you dart,

In the June that were warmer than these are the waves were more gay.

When I was a boy, with never a crack in my heart.

The herding are not in the tides as they were of old.

My sorrow! For many a crack gave the coral in the cave by the nets on the pebbly shore.

That carried the take to Sligo town to be sold.

When I was a boy, with never a crack in my heart.

And, ah, you proud maiden, you are not so fair when his ear is heard on the water, as they were, the proud and apart,

Who paced in the eve by the nets on the pebbly shore.

When I was a boy, with never a crack in my heart.

BUSY CLIFF DWELLERS.

The Pueblo Women Are Literally Em-

presses of Their Homes.

"The cliff people are a busy folk," writes Hamlin Garland in The Ladies' Home Journal, in an article describing the homes, home life and customs of the cliff dwellers of the southwest—"the most mysterious people in America," as he designates them. "The women grind meal and weave blankets and baskets and make very interesting and often beautiful pottery. The old men make moccasins very deftly, while the young men go down from the cliff to the fields to tend the growing crop, to watch the drifting herd and against sudden floods—such are the extremes of their climate. Each morning while I was in Hano I heard the men at early dawn go singing down the steep trail—down into the purple plain. Their quavering songs floated up to me with a strange beauty. Each morning, while it was still dark, the women woke me by entering the room where I lay to grind corn, and each night I went to sleep to the regular rhythm of the mauling stone timed to the mystical religious chant of the tolling women.

"Let it be said that there is no woman slavery among these people any more than among the Navajoes. The women are chief property holders. The house is generally the woman's, and the father, through her and not through the mother, is the man of the house. The men are seldom seen in the house, and in the house, as well as in the Laguna and Zuni, I saw the men taking care of the babies and doing it with great tenderness and smiling patience. I saw no evidence of any severity except in case of the old women. They seemed to be the drudges of the household in Walpi and in Acoma, carrying wood and bottles of water up the steep trail, bent, withered, decrepit and complaining. They alone of all these people seemed saturnine."

Ingenious Peruvian Invention.

A long, slim neck is a distinguishing feature of much of the Peruvian pottery, and nearly every vessel is ornamented with a figure of some sort, having holes to represent eyes and other openings. This afforded a passage for the air forced out by the liquid when poured into the vessel. By an ingenious contrivance the air in escaping produces a sound similar to the cry of the creature represented. Thus a vessel decorated with two monkeys embracing each other, on having water poured into or from it, would give a sound like the screaming of these animals. One decorated with a bird would emit birdlike notes, while a mountain cat on one jar would mew; snakes coiled around another would hiss. The most curious that we have seen was the figure of an aged woman. When the jar was in use, her hands became audible, and tears trickled down her cheeks. The manufacturer seemed to have known all about atmospheric pressure. Dr. Le Plongeon found in his own collection a piece that demonstrated this. It represented a double-headed bird. The vessel had to be filled through a hole in the bottom, and yet in turning it over not a drop would spill, but the liquid would readily flow out when the jar was simply inclined.

—Popular Science Monthly.

Cautious Prophet.

In these days, when people are wont to complain of any mistake made in the prognostications sent out from the weather bureau, it is amusing to read of the complainant manner in which O'Connell, in his "New England Almanack" for the year 1702 and later, predicted the weather.

"Perhaps," he says, "it will be very cold weather if it freeze by the first of April or on the sunny side of a fence at noon."

In April he says: "Perhaps wet weather if it rains." "Windy or calm," if the sun shines.

And in July he writes pleasantly, "If now the weather do prove fair, people to Cambridge do repair."

It appears that Mr. Samuel O'Connell knew how to secure himself against criticism.

Russia produces eight bushels of wheat to the acre and might produce twice or three times that quantity if the cultivation were as careful and systematic as in Germany or France.

Attila, the king of the Huns, was called the Scourge of God. The desolation he wrought in Europe cannot be read even at this day without the utmost horror.

WAIT FOR AN EXTRA SESSION.

The available cash balance in the United States Treasury is in round numbers, according to the latest published statement, $227,000,000, of which over $126,000,000 is gold. This with the revenues derived from the duties on imports and internal tax will be sufficient to carry on the Government for many months to come so there will be no necessity for issuing more bonds until President-elect McKinley takes the reins of Government in his hands, provided always that the gold trust does not make a raid on the gold reserve for the purpose of getting more bonds. Besides it will be better for the country when money is as scarce as it is at present, to get that available cash out of the Treasury vaults, where it is doing no good, and in circulation among the people where it is needed to pay taxes, redeem mortgages and to enable energetic men to engage in new enterprises.

Under these circumstances the Silver Senators in the present Congress will probably let the Dingley tariff bill go over. If they pass it they will be held accountable to some extent should it fail to spread that wave of prosperity through the country. The gold men told the people that McKinley's election meant sound money and prosperity. These are things that everybody wants and as a majority of the people voted for McKinley it would be wrong to place any impediments in his way. Let him, under the direction of Mr. Hanna, run the Government to suit himself for the next two years and start that "wave of prosperity" rolling by convening Congress in extra session immediately after his inauguration. Senators and Representatives are paid an annual salary and the extra expense of a special session will be nominal, and if the "wave of prosperity" is sweeping through the country the people won't notice the cost. The framers of the Dingley bill claimed that it was intended to afford temporary relief to the Treasury and none whatever to the people so it would be only obstructing the wave of prosperity to place it on the statutes. No silver man should vote for a tariff bill before the fourth of March or against one after that date. Let us give the McKinley bill or whatever other bill the new administration may approve a fair trial and if it brings prosperity that is all the people can expect from any political party.

PROSPERITY EAST.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works posted notices in their shops before election promising to increase the working force 25 per cent and the wages of employees 10 per cent if McKinley was elected. Well, McKinley was elected and the working force at the works has been reduced 25 per cent and the wages of those retained cut 10 per cent.

The Peninsular Car Works at Detroit, Michigan, which had been shut down during the summer, opened a few weeks before election, giving employment to 1,500 men. These were promised steady employment if McKinley was elected. They voted, of course, for sound money and prosperity, and now they discover what that means. Last week men were laid off in different departments, and last Thursday the climax was reached when the works were closed down indefinitely.

If that is the kind of prosperity we are going to have it is immaterial to the man out of employment whether we have 50-cent dollars or 100-cent dollars, as they cannot get either.

DEMAND FOR SILVER.

A New York dispatch says the demand for silver has been steadily increasing during the week owing to the requirements of India. Exports of the metal are on an increased scale.

Great Britain purchases our silver at 65 cents, or as much less as the gold trust can make it, per ounce and coins it into rupees worth $1.38 per ounce, and we depress the price of the metal as much as possible by refusing to coin it on our own account. Though we were told there were stores of silver from which this country would be flooded, we see European nations coming to the United States to buy silver bullion because there is no other place on the globe where it can be bought at as low a price.

The closing of the mints of India to silver in 1893 caused the price of bullion to decline fifteen cents an ounce, and now that there is a demand for silver in India it may advance a few cents an ounce.

THE VOTE OF SAN FRANCISCO

The Election Commissioners of San Francisco have completed the official canvass of the vote on the general ticket. The vote for electors was very close and Martin, one of the Bryan electors, received a larger vote than Flint, one of the Republican electors, Martin's vote being 30,649 and Flint's 30,529.

For Congressman, McGuire (Democrat) received 19,074 votes to 10,040 for O'Brien (Republican.)

It will take some weeks yet to canvass the vote for local officers in the city, as there were many tickets.

The woman suffrage amendment to the constitution received 12,000, and there were 39,721 votes against it.

THE VOTES OF SEVERAL STATES.

The official returns from Connecticut, Tennessee and Wyoming are given as follows: Connecticut gave McKinley 110,297, Bryan 56,740; Palmer 4,336, Levering 1,806 and the Socialists 1,223. Tennessee gave Bryan 163,651, McKinley 148,773, Watson 4,525, Palmer 1,951 and Levering 3,098. Wyoming gave the Bryan electors 400, 380 and 150 majority respectively, and elected Osborne (Democrat) to Congress by 340 majority.

Possibly a General Strike.

LEADVILLE, Col., November 20.—A statement that the Governor was determined to end the strike by summary measures and suppress further violence, has caused the striking miners to extend the strike to all other mining unions in the State. Montana mine owners have announced a fifty cents per day reduction in wages. This is expected to precipitate an extension of the strike and will cut off the revenue contributed to the striking Leadville miners.

Appointed Rector.

BALTIMORE, November 20.—The Sun's correspondent at Rome cables as follows, under the date of November 19th: Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Conaty, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Worcester, Mass., has been appointed by the Pope rector of the Catholic University of Washington, to succeed Bishop John J. Keane, who resigned on September 28, 1896.

Looted Mail Boxes.

PASADENA, November 20.—There was a bold robbery in Pasadena after midnight. Two men in a light wagon broke open and looted 14 mail boxes. They are supposed to have got a quantity of money as this is the time when people are sending small amounts to pay county taxes. A woman saw one box robbed and gives a description of the thieves.

Inherited Insanity.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 20.—The trial of Mrs. Susie B. Martin for insanity in connection with the killing of her husband, John F. Martin, in the corridor of the City Hall, was begun to-day. Evidence was developed that Mrs. Martin's mother was insane at times, and that two uncles were in insane asylums.

Rural Free Delivery.

PHOENIX, Ariz., November 20.—Rural free delivery has been established by the Postoffice inspector in the vicinity of Tempe, covering a thickly settled farming country. This is one of the seven stations selected in the United States by the Postoffice Department for the trial of experiments.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Three persons have been arrested in New York for the murder of Frank P. Arbuckle of Denver, Colorado.

John R. Gentry, the king of harness race horses, was sold in New York City at the horse show for $19,000 to L. J. Townsburry.

E. J. Ivory, alias Bell of New York, the alleged dynamiter, was formally committed for trial at the Criminal Court in London.

Al Pellick, a young lawyer, and Miss Lulu and Miss Lizzie Lind, while riding in a buggy at Concord, Kansas, were struck by the east-bound train at a crossing and killed.

Rev. James C. Hull, convicted at St. Paul, Minn., of attempting to poison his wife by giving her arsenic in her medicine, was sentenced to six years in the State Penitentiary.

At the Central Railroad compress at Macon, Georgia, 3,000 bales of cotton and hundreds of tons of heavy timber went down with a crash injuring fourteen employees of the company.

It is reported at Leadville that the decision of Governor McIntyre of Colorado to take summary measures to end the strike, has caused officers of the Miners' Union, backed by the Western Federation of Miners to send for aid to all miners in the State and inaugurate a sympathetic strike.

The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor, in session at Rochester, New York, declared for free coinage of silver regardless of the action of any other nation, and denouncing any attempt to take from the Government the sovereign right to issue money and give the entire control of the currency to National banks.

A man and woman who registered at a hotel at Valley City, North Dakota, as Thomas Owens and wife of New Rockland, were found dead in bed clasped in each others arms yesterday morning. They took prussic acid and left a note containing money for burial and the words, "Though separated in life we are one in death. Make no inquiries as to us."

The Illinois Federation of Labor in session at East St. Louis adopted resolutions in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, passed by the American Federation of Labor at Chicago in 1893. The ten delegates who voted in the negative said they did so because they did not think it judicious to place the organization on record.

Advices received at Key West, Fla., discredit the statement that the campaign of General Weyler against the insurgent leader, Maceo, is a failure. The last word of Weyler he was preparing to attack the insurgents, who are said to number only 20,000 men and are reported to be suffering for provisions and ammunition. A rumor had been circulated in Havana that Weyler was killed.

William Jackson, the defaulting County Treasurer of Shasta, California, was sentenced to ten years in San Quentin. Few persons were in the court-room at Redding when sentence was pronounced, and Judge Sweeney, who is an old personal and political friend of Jackson, was much affected. He stated, however, that on account of the enormity of the offense he would have to sentence him to the full extent of the law.

A fire broke out in the five-story building of H. W. Lustkemeyer & Co. in Cleveland, Ohio. The wind was strong and though twenty-two engines and two fire boats battled with the flames it took two hours to get the fire under control. There were fifty persons in the building, all of whom escaped without serious injury except the son of the senior partner and three others, who were badly burned. The loss is estimated at $350,000.

District Court Notes.

The case of the people against James Porter and Thomas Hollett charged with attempting train wrecking, which has been on trial in the District Court the past two days, was given to the jury at noon yesterday. After deliberating about three hours the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. The men were then discharged and went their way rejoicing. They had been confined in jail over three months awaiting trial. E. R. Dodge was attorney for the defendants.

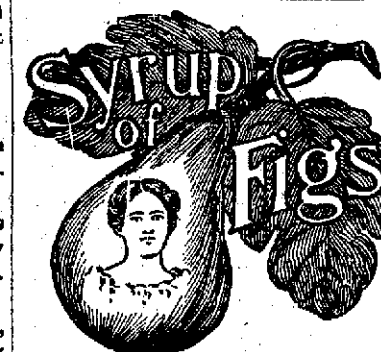

The damage suit of Mrs. M. Alexander vs. Theodore Winters, et al., was on trial yesterday afternoon and a night session was also held. The case will probably be submitted to-day.

Man on the Loose.

A Chicago man, a police officer, who had been arrested for a crime, was released on bail. He was seen in the city and was supposed to have got a quantity of money as this is the time when people are sending small amounts to pay county taxes. A woman saw one box robbed and gives a description of the thieves.

Rarely Considerate.

He (playfully)—How old are you, Miss Brown?
She—I cannot tell a lie. I—
"Oh, if that is the case, I will not take a mean advantage of you. I withdraw the question."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

OUT WITH OLD NOSTRUMS.

Try Paine's Celery Compound, the Most Advanced Remedy That Science Can Give.

MRS. R. R. PRATT.

There are very intelligent men and women who still prefer open fires to steam pipes and furnaces.

But only a very shallow minded person would deliberately choose an old-fashioned remedy in case of sickness. Sufferers from neuralgia, rheumatism or kidney trouble want the surest and most advanced remedy science can give them. Getting well is not a matter of sentiment, but the most seriously practical matter. That is why the most thoughtful and conservative people now use Paine's celery compound, and recommend it to friends and relatives who are threatened or afflicted with nervous exhaustion, sleeplessness, disordered liver or blood diseases.

That wonderfully acute and patient investigator, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth College, embodied in Paine's celery compound, the most progressive, yet thoroughly established, views on the cure of diseases of nervous origin.

All of the imitations of Paine's celery compound—very one knows how many there are—have proved to be entirely wide of the mark. Their promises of astonishing curative abilities are easily made on paper; but they are not kept.

It is easy to verify every claim made by Paine's celery compound. There is no village so small but it contains families in which this wonderful remedy has made some member well. Men who weigh their words and are careful what they write above their signatures have publicly given this great investigator its deserved credit for health-making powers such as no other remedy ever received.

That Paine's celery compound certainly cures such diseases as neuralgia, sleeplessness and dyspepsia does not admit of a doubt. It builds up the entire nervous system, plumps out the tissues, starts the blood into healthy circulation and regulates the action of the nerves. It makes people well, strong and energetic.

Mrs. R. R. Pratt of Centre Brook, Conn., whose portrait is given here, says plainly:

"I find Paine's celery compound a perfect medicine. I took several bottles for general debility, and it did for me all I could ask. It made me well. I have recommended it to my friends, and they all speak in its praise."

Paine's celery compound is the most assured and direct means of getting back a full store of vitality. It is a true nerve regulator. It exterminates all vicious humors that linger in the blood. It cures rheumatism, and is used by physicians as a specific for this disease.

Says Mrs. W. R. Johnson of Cape

Bozier, Mo.:

"I was attacked with rheumatic fever in its worst form. I employed the best physicians, but received no permanent relief. When I commenced to take Paine's celery compound my feet and hands were swollen so badly that they were useless. I could not walk a step, and was suffering very much. When I had taken four bottles of Paine's celery compound I could walk well, and I continued until I took six bottles. It made me perfectly well, and I have been so ever since. I wish the whole world might know of its great value."

Paine's celery compound makes people well.

Winter searches out the weak parts in the body; colds settle in the deranged organs and develop diseases. Make every part of the body sound; build up the strength and be ready for the shock of cold weather by taking Paine's celery compound.

BORES IN PARLIAMENT.

They Receive Smart Courtesy When They

Are the Galley of a Bull.

Parliamentary manners are brutal in Western manner when a member in debate is convicted of a bull. A speaker with an expansive oratorical manner recently astonished the commons with an outburst of unconscious humor. He was speaking of the ruin and exhaustion wrought by misgovernment in Ireland and worked himself up into a fine frenzy of excited declamation.

"The population of Ireland," he exclaimed with flashing eyes and outstretched arms, "has been decimated to the extent of two-thirds."

"The mathematical absurdity of the statement did not fail to excite amusement, although the bull was less obvious than a similar one attributed to an Irish member, Major O'Gorman."

"The population of Ireland," said the contentious major in the commons, "is 6,000,000 less than it would be if it were an uninhabited island."

That was a joke which provoked unrestrained merriment among the benches. The Irish members are pardoned many blunders, however, because they are, with few exceptions, humorous speakers, who enliven the tedium of debate with merry quips and jests. The bore, who are constantly speaking with unvarying dullness and diffuseness, are not spared when they make slips of the tongue.

A member who, in the course of a lengthy, uninteresting speech, was careless enough to say, "The time has come and is rapidly arriving" was greeted with a wild howl of ridicule and delight from the benches. He was dazed by the uppour, not understanding what the honorable members were laughing at, but his unconsciousness and stupidity only served to prolong and deepen the merriment. It was the English parliamentary method of punishing a bore.

Good jokes are rare in the house of commons. A neat epigram excites a ripple of mirth, a flashing sarcasm stirs
a movement of pleasurable surprise, but the loudest laughter follows some stupid and inane commonplace from a speaker to whom the house is compelled to listen too often.

"I would have proceeded to remark," said a pompous debater, "if I had not already anticipated and repeated myself."

The sentence could not be finished.
There was a loud roar of laughter, which was prolonged and repeated when the speaker attempted to go on with his speech.

It was cruel treatment, but possibly it was wholesome discipline for a gar-rulous speaker who had exhausted the patience of his audience on many occasions.

Parliament is the hardest of all schools in which to serve an apprenticeship in public speaking. Mr. Parnell learned to speak when the members were bent upon interrupting him and howling him down, but few public men have the pertinacity and grit that he displayed. He was never, however, a bore. His manner in his early days in parliament was crude and halting, but he always had something to say, although he did not at first know how to say it.—Youth's Companion.

Circumstantial Evidence.

A gentleman in a country town, says
the New York Ledger, recently became conscious of most suspicious glances cast upon him by his neighbors and acquaintances. When he became aware that his footsteps were dogged.

A constable was occasionally seen around his house, and subsequently a stranger, who afterward turned out to be a detective, appeared. Tortured and troubled, the gentleman at last asked a friend the meaning of it all.

"Don't you know?" said he. "They suspect you of murder."

"Of murder!" said the horrified man.

"What do you mean?"

"You received a postal card last week?"

"Very likely I received a dozen."

"But on this one were written these words, 'Be sure and save the son, but kill the father,' and the postmaster read."

But at this a smile, ending in a laugh, broke in upon the dialogue. The postal card had come from a theatrical manager, for whom the gentleman had written a play, which the manager wanted amended in certain particulars.

Menelek's Italian Prisoners.

While most of Menelek's Italian prisoners are being harshly treated many of them have a comparatively easy time. The wealthy Abyssinian women insisted that their husbands should take into their houses those prisoners who were able to render services that gratified their personal vanity, so that hair cutters, perfume makers, tailors and shoemakers are very well treated. Queen Taitou herself set an example in this respect, and those of the officers and soldiers capable of using a pencil skillfully live in her residence under the best conditions, being employed in painting the walls of her new palace.
A photographer is making considerable sums of money by taking portraits of the ladies of the court.—London Letter.

Doom of the Derby.

The derby hat is a thing of the past.
Time was when no self-respecting race-goer thought of presenting himself upon the Epsom downs without a white hat and a green veil. But this state of things exists no longer. Hats were conspicuous enough at Epsom at the last Derby, but the white hat was conspicuous mainly by its absence, while veils were few and far between.—Boston

When dogs refuse their food, the chances are for a rain. It often happens that a storm is foretold by dogs seeking long leaved grass and chewing and swallowing the blades.
